Visitors to Arnprior and District Memorial Hospital will soon be able to make use of a renovated emergency department.

Work is progressing well on the 18-month project, which will modernize the emergency department and allow staff at the hospital to see more than 24,000 emergency visits per year.

According to ADMH manager of communications and fund development Wendy Knetchel, the new ER entrance will be open to the public by mid August, even though the entire renovation/construction project will not be fully completed until March 2011.

This week, the EMC was given a sneak peak at the work done so far by Massicotte Construction of Ottawa.
